DR. CARMEN IN FAST TIME

COVERS A MILE OVER OAKLAWN TRACK IN PAN ZARETA'S RECORD.

Vampire and Mater Well-Backed Winners—Fine Weather and Big Attendance Continues—Oklahoma Horses Sell Poorly.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 29.—R. L. Baker's Dr. Carmen ran with great speed this afternoon and accounted for the mile handicap that featured the card, incidentally covering the course in 1:39, which equalled the mark for a mile established during this meeting by Pan Zareta. He won with the greatest of ease over Monsieur Perci, with Greenwood getting up to beat Bonanza for third money. Monsieur Perci, because of his previous good racing, ruled a strong favorite and flattered his supporters by showing the way until well into the stretch, where Dr. Carmen passed into the lead with a rush and won hard held.

Summerlike weather again prevailed here and helped to bring out the full strength of the race goers. Prominent visitors from all parts of the country were again in attendance. The twenty-seven "information" men who previously were in line again looked after the wants of those speculatively inclined.

The limit number of starters allowed to race over the track went to the post in the second and third races and close finishes attended the running of both. The respective favorites of these races, Brownstone and Dew Drop, were badly beaten, Vampire and Mater, both extensively supported, accounting for the purses. The opener enabled Rey Ennis to graduate from the maiden class when he outstayed Cashup and Colza. The favorite, Sang Bleu, was off poorly and was a distant follower all the way.

Jockey F. Cooper resumed riding this afternoon, but sustained a slight injury to his leg when Asparagus Sam caromed into the fence, necessitating the cancelling of his remaining engagements. Obert was substituted on Dr. Carmen.

W. A. Pinkerton received a telegram today from J. W. Coffroth at San Diego, stating that the Tijuana track would open on April 15 for a race meeting of 100 or more days and that the ring would be open to all reputable layers. Mr Coffroth also stated that some 500 horses were available for racing at the track.

W. L. Hatchett has sold Transport to J. M. Singleton for the reported price of $700.

Charles Walters intends to go from here to Tijuana to book and Barney Schreiber is also considering going there.

There were additional departures this afternoon for Bowie of turfmen anxious to be on hand for the opening there next Saturday.

Ten of the two-year-olds from the Campbell & Gray farm in Oklahoma were offered for sale by auction in the paddock today, but only five of them were disposed of by auctioneer J. S. Wallace. All were by Mint, and the one bringing the best price was Sol Mintz, whose dam is Effie M. He was purchased by Galen Brown for $400. Five other horses, the property of various owners, were also sold. Those disposed of were: Sadie Straup, L. D. Gentry, $150; Zadie Mumford, J. J. Stewart, $350; Jim Bing, R. E. Beattie, $160; Sol Mintz, Galen Brown, $400; Fair Mary, W. M. Rawson, $150; Miss Represent, E. Lutz, $100; War Bride, E. E. Major, $150, and Martinos, R. C. Beattie, $80.

Alfadir came out of her race in a bad way, due to the frequent interference to which Bill Simmons subjected her.

Jockey Hanmer was given a good grilling by Judge Campbell after the last race for his interference with Hedge Rose in the stretch running.

R. D. Williams will go from here to Oklahoma, where the J L. Holland ranch is located, to inspect the thoroughbred stock there.

STAKE DATES SET FOR BELMONT PARK.

Five Thoroughbreds Reach New York from Abroad—Status of the Duryea and Widener Horses.

New York, March 29.—Following are the dates on which the stakes to be run at the Belmont Park spring meeting will be decided:

May 25—Metropolitan Handicap and New York Steeplechase.
May 27—Juvenile Stakes and Hollis Stakes.
May 30—Suburban Handicap and International Steeplechase.
May 31—Bouquet Stakes.
June 1—Harlem Selling Stakes.
June 3—Fashion Stakes and Toboggan Handicap.
June 6—Withers Stakes.
June 7—Meadowbrook Steeplechase.
June 8—Ladies' Handicap.
June 10—Amateur Cup and Belmont Stakes.
June 12—Grand National Steeplechase.
June 14—Keene Memorial Stakes.

Five thoroughbreds arrived on the Minnehaha today from England consigned to M. Grossman. The identity of only three could be learned—The Battler, Prisoner's Leap and Royal York. It was claimed by those who had charge of the shipment that The Battler was four years old. According to the English Stud Book a horse named The Battler is nine years old and was sired by Lestrelin or Clonmel. Prisoner's Leap is a bay filly, 4, by Dunbarton Castle—Run, and Royal York is a brown gelding, 4, by Morgandale—Flirty. One of the other two was known on the ship as the Pillow colt. The fifth could not be identified. Mr. Grossman, the consignee, is not known here in racing circles.

Some of the horses belonging to the estate of the late H. B. Duryea will be shipped here as soon as possible. Eighteen of them are now in England ready for shipment, but are being held there awaiting the arrival of other two-year-olds and yearlings coming from France. All are two-year-olds and yearlings, not one of the older horses being permitted to leave France. The same condition of affairs exists as to the Widener stable. All of the Duryea horses will be sold at auction soon after their arrival here. While many of the older horses from the Duryea and Widener stables are entered in stakes in this country, it is doubtful if they will fill their engagements unless there is an early termination of the war.

R. T. Wilson returned today from his winter home at Palmetto Bluff, S. C. His health has improved wonderfully and he is delighted with the extraordinary prospects for brilliant racing at Saratoga this year.

On Saturday, May 27, the members of the Coach Club will attend Belmont Park in a body and, to signalize the event, a special race will be carded called the Coaching Club Stakes, for two-year-olds.

HIGH BRED FILLIES NOMINATED TO THE KENTUCKY OAKS, OF THE PRESENT YEAR

On their two-year-old form some fleet fillies have been nominated to contend for Kentucky Oaks honors at Churchill Downs next May. Mostly they were bred in this country, but English breeding is represented by Jefferson Livingston's Mandy Hamilton and E. R. Bradley's May Bird. The best racing is embodied in the records of Hansa, Jacoba, Regina, Adroit, Julia L., Impressive and Little Sister. Of these Hansa is the only one that was not beaten, but she only started once. This was over the Belmont Park straight course last September in a five and a half furlongs dash, which she won in a canter from Raconteuse, Landslide and four more in 1:05⅘. From the fact that she has been nominated to both the Kentucky and Latonia Derbys it is not hard to surmise that Jimmy Rowe thinks pretty well of this sister to the dam of Regret and Thunderer. Races for three-year-old fillies are proverbially uncertain and, while the best racing form was shown last year by the fillies named, it would be only in consonance with the record of the race if the winner should prove to be one of the unconsidered outsiders. The nominees, their pedigrees, owners and records in the racing of last year are:

MORE OF SENATOR CAMDEN'S RESIGNATION.

Lexington, Ky., March 29.—The resignation of former United States Senator Johnson N. Camden as chairman and member of the Kentucky State Racing Commission has been accepted by Governor Stanley, who announces that he will appoint a new member of the commission as soon as possible. Mr. Camden, who has been at Hot Springs, Ark., for several weeks under treatment for rheumatism, gave ill health as the principal reason for resigning, and Governor Stanley expressed his regret at its being Mr. Camden's desire that he should accept it.

Mr. Camden has been a member of the Kentucky State Racing Commission for about six years, and for about three years has been chairman, with an interim of about four months when he resigned to serve a short term as United States Senator. Governor McCreary, however, declined to appoint a member of the commission in his place during this period, as did his fellow members to choose a new chairman, and both positions were restored to him upon the expiration of his term as Senator. He is the proprietor of the Hartland Stud in Woodford County, and has been for many years prominent as a breeder of thoroughbred horses as well as on the turf itself.

Chairman Camden's resignation was totally unexpected, and in the nature of a great surprise to horsemen everywhere, who have considered his presence on the commission as a sterling asset to the turf interests of America.

Mr. Camden's letter, which was written last Wednesday at Hot Springs, where he is seeking the restoration of his health, is as follows:

"I very reluctantly tender my resignation as a member of the Kentucky State Racing Commission, with the request that it take effect immediately. I have been conscious for some time past, owing mainly to ill health, that I have not been able to give this important work the close attention that it deserves, and as it is now clear that I will be able to devote to it even less time in the future, I consider it only fair to the valuable and extensive interest that it represents that I resign in favor of a more active member."

Governor Stanley's letter of acceptance, written Saturday, follows:

"I am deeply grieved to learn of your illness and your determination to retire from the Racing Commission, and in this I express not only my personal feelings, but those of the gentlemen who have been so pleasantly associated with you. I shall, as per your request, name your successor for the Racing Commission at the earliest possible moment.

"With kindest personal regards and best wishes for your early and complete recovery, I remain, most cordially yours."

Governor Stanley's selection necessarily will be a breeder of thoroughbred horses. The statute creating the commission requires that "at least three" of its members be breeders. Only two of the four remaining commissioners are breeders. They are Messrs. Thomas Hart Talbot of Bourbon County, vice-chairman, and Judge Allie W. Young of Rowan County. Judge Young did not become a breeder until he was selected by former Governor James B. McCreary for a place on the commission. Then it was that he bought a few mares. They now are at Mr. Camden's farm in Woodford County. The other two members of the commission are Charles F. Grainger, president of the New Louisville Jockey Club, and General W. B. Haldeman, editor of the Louisville Times.

ROBERT DAVIES' MASTERFUL PERSONALITY.

The late Robert Davies was angry about the circulation of gossip at the time he bought Plate Glass that he was not actually the owner, but that somebody else had an interest in the horse, and Mr. Davies was only to have the use of him for representation in the Connaught Cup. If there ever was a man on the Canadian turf about which such a story was manifestly unfounded it was "King Bob." It was characteristic of his affairs that you read on the wagons so frequently seen on the streets: "Don Valley Brick Works, Robert Davies, Proprietor." His businesses were conducted in that way, and there was no company or partners or associates, not even R. D. Davies & Sons. He had no boss and no partner but Mrs. Davies. An incident at Woodbine one spring morning a couple of seasons ago is illustrative. Among the arrivals from the south for the approaching races were colored help acquainted with the help about the Thorncliffe Stable, and one of the new arrivals greeted an old friend who had spent the winter on the Davies farm. After an interchange of personal inquiries, the newcomer asked: "How's you-all's hawsses?" and the Thorncliffe retainer stopped him at once with: "Look heah, man. That you-all thing may be all right wha' yo' just come from, but it don't go aroun' heah." When that had time to soak into the amazed newcomer's mind, he continued, with a magnificent wave of the hand along the line of open half-doors from which the horses were looking out: "Ef yo' mean Mistah Davies' hawsses, they done wintered mighty fine."—Francis Nelson in Toronto Globe.

HALL BILL PASSES MARYLAND HOUSE.

Annapolis, Md., March 29.—The house today passed the Hall anti-race track betting bill and it now goes to the senate, where the friends of racing are counted on as being much stronger than they are in the house. The vote was fifty-four to forty. On the second reading the vote had been sixty to forty, but some of the friends of the bill were out of the chamber when it was called today. Delegate White spoke in favor of racing and charged that the bill was for the purpose of putting the pari-mutuels out of business and in favor of the bookmakers.

Those who have the racing intersts in charge at Annapolis are still as confident as ever and claim that they have the situation well in hand. They say that they made no especial fight against the bill in the house, but that when it comes up in the senate they will disclose their full strength.

Senator Johnson, president of the Maryland State Fair at Laurel, who is an influential member of the upper house, is in charge of the situation for the tracks and he is said to be entirely sure of his ground.

PRUSSIAN GOVERNMENT STALLIONS.

Interesting details are given in "Deutscher Sport" of the Prussian government's studs, which number exactly nineteen. Five of them, inclusive of Graditz, Trakehnen, Beberbeck, Friederich Wilhelm Stud and Georgenburg, are scheduled as chief studs. The total number of thoroughbred stallions doing stud duty for the Prussian state this year is 124, added to which the other German states, such as Bavaria, Wurtemburg, etc., have royal studs of their own. It is significant to note that at Graditz, where there are seven thoroughbred sires, only one, Hammurabi, was bred in Germany, and even he is by the English stallion, Gallinule, out of an English mare, Helm, bred by the late Duke of Westminster. The other British Graditz stallions are Galtee More, Ard Patrick and Dark Ronald, while Biniou and Nuage are French, and Talion is Belgian-bred.

IN READINESS AT BOWIE

JOCKEY CLUB'S NEW RULE TO GOVERN SELLING RACES AT THE MARYLAND TRACK.

Two-Year-Olds to Race Each Day—New Mutuel Machines Installed—Arrivals of Daily Occurrence—Horses at Work.

Baltimore, Md., March 29.—The Jockey Club's new rule regarding selling races, which eliminates one of the objections under former conditions, will go into effect at the opening of the Bowie meeting on Saturday next. Instead of the owner of the horse finishing second and the association dividing the runup surplus, all the starters in the race will split it equally. Under this ruling, for example, if eight thoroughbreds start and the winner is advanced $200, each owner will receive $25.

The Bowie management will cater to long distance races during the first seven days, and the program book for the remainder of the meeting probably will contain just as many opportunities for the route-going horses. For every day, except Monday, April 3, three contests have been arranged at a mile or more, while there will be a number at seven-eighths out of the chute.

Two-year-olds will have a race for themselves on each of the first seven days and will show how good they are in the first race on the program. The distance of each contest will be a half mile.

During the remainder of the week stragglers will reach Powie, coming from all points of the compass. A number of owners are reported to be on their way from Havana, Juarez and Hot Springs. By Saturday practically every stall will be occupied, and the horsemen then will settle down to business for the next dozen racing days.

Manager Mortimer Mahoney of the pari-mutuel department, reports that two new ticket and cashier booths have been installed. One is a $2 combination booth, making two in operation, and the other is a $5 straight and show combination, the latter being the first to be used in Maryland.

Trainers at Bowie were busy yesterday. Notwithstanding the rain, the track was in good condition and thirty or more horses were worked in preparation for the opening day. The best performances were those of Ina Kay, Rustling Brass and Handfull. Ina Kay worked a half in 49⅘ and finished out three-quarters in 1:18.

This one is in James Johnstone's stable. The filly showed well at New Orleans. Rustling Brass did a half in 51, and three-quarters in 1:18. W. A. Burttschell has this one fit.

The veteran trainer, Theodore Coles, is at Bowie with three of the get of Bobby Kean, the property of W. L. Maupin. They are Mollie Kean, a five-year-old maiden; Billy Kean, a four-year-old maiden, and Capital City, a two-year-old out of Eminola, by Aloha. The two-year-old is a grand-looking colt and about as promising as anything at Bowie. He did not have a saddle on him until the middle of February, but is going along like a veteran. Yesterday he worked a quarter in 25⅗ with 120 pounds up.

Kimball Patterson has shipped Madame Herrmann and a two-year-old from Havre de Grace to Bowie.

A carload of horses, which have been racing at Hot Springs, is expected to arrive Thursday.

The work-outs as noted yesterday, were:

Ahara—Seven-eighths in 1:35.
Aldonus—Half mile in 51⅗.
Ancon—Three-quarters in 1:24⅗.
Ask Ma—Three-quarters in 1:22.

Thoughtreader—Three-quarters in 1:22⅖.
Waukeag—Three-eighths in 37⅗.

ARMINE AN IMPOSING APPEARING FILLY.

Mr. Harry Giddings has just returned from a visit to Barbados, where the steady northeast trade wind still makes the days as salubrious as when the buccaneers frequented the Windward Islands and raided the Spanish main. He found that the world went along just as usual in his absence, as it has a habit of doing with all of us. His King's Plate reliance, the filly Armine, has grown into the likeness almost of a stallion, and he reports her as girthing three inches more than St. Bass did when he won the guineas. Her performances under colors last season were first-class, and in common opinion she is the only real obstacle to Mr. Seagram resuming his long run of success, that was broken after Seismic won in 1908. That was the thirteenth score for the Waterloo horses in the Plate and it has been hard to get past that unlucky figure.—Toronto Globe.

HAVANA HORSES DUE AT LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., March 29.—Among the arrivals today from Havana were T. J. Harmon, Logan Denny, T. Carroll and T. M. Irvine. Their horses are en route and are expected to arrive soon at the local track.

J. W. May came up from Louisville today and W. B. Miller of Akron, Ohio, spent the day with Hal Price Headley looking over the horses which he and Mr. Headley have in partnership.

The main track at the Kentucky Association was closed today, owing to bad weather conditions.

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF.

It is not until next Monday night that the Maryland legislature will adjourn.

C. H. Shilling's application for a jockey's license has not yet been acted upon by the license committee of the Jockey Club's stewards.

Hugh McCarren plans on disposing of Willis, Jacob Bunn and Andrew Johnson before transferring his stable from Juarez to Tijuana.

Roamer is now a more impressive looking horse than ever. Compact in outline, having a long barrel which is an almost perfect cylinder and quarters which have a wealth of muscle and would be adequate for a draught horse, he fills the eye completely.

It is reported that the stable of Mr. Charles Millar, which is short of two-year-olds, is to be strengthened by the acquisition of the crop of a Canadian breeder—not Mrs. Livingston—which will furnish something for this year, and possibly enable him next year to score his second count as King's Plate winner.

Andy Blakeley expects to win frequently at Bowie with his two-year-olds Rhymer, Running Shot, Captain Fredericks, Good Gracious and Kalinka. Having been trained at New Orleans, they are fit and ready to race and in the matter of condition will have an advantage over their northern competitors.

C. H. Pettingill, who has been re-appointed a placing judge for the tracks of the Jockey Club, has written a New York friend that the racing will be resumed at Tijuana in Lower California April 12, and that he would fill his office there until it was time for him to report at Jamaica May 18.

Judge Joseph A. Murphy is decidedly in favor of an interpretation of the selling race rules that would permit of the winner as well as any other horse in the field being claimed. He would go even further and make the claiming open to all reputable turfmen, irrespective of whether or not they start a horse in the same race. He is of the opinion that the winner should be claimed for his entered price plus the first money, for the reason that after the race has been won it is a closed incident and the winner should surely cost as much as any horse that finished behind him.

The French racing publication, Le Cronique du Turf, though it contains no actuel racing news, is of interest, since it reproduces all the ministerial documents which have originated through the war. Added to this list is one enumerating all the horses and mares which have been purchased or requisitioned by the Remount and Stud Commission, as well as a report from the latter showing the dificiency in financial resources inflicted on the horse department of the Ministry of Agriculture through the enforced absence of the subsidy from the mutuels and the absence of racing. Close on $400,000 is required to balance the accounts of the remount department.

In a letter to a friend here, George Strate, trainer of George W. Wingfield's string of thoroughbreds in the east, imparts the information that Skeer Face, the crack three-year-old, is going to be shipped to France in the fall. It was reported at the time Wingfield accepted an offer of $8,000 for the well bred Hippodrome—Fleeing Venus colt that a New Yorker was the purchaser. Now Strate states that Mrs. Vuen of Paris secured Skeer Face through an agent. The colt will be taken to New York to race and will probably start in the Kentucky Derby. Then he will be shipped to Paris, and it is Mrs. Vuen's intention to convert Skeer Face into a jumper. He is a big, strapping colt, and showed his ability to hurdle at New Orleans by jumping the fence one day.—San Francisco Chronicle.

BRIEF BUT BRILLIANT RACING CAREER.

Spearmint a Cheaply Bought Yearling, but One of the Best Derby Winners.

In the September of 1904 a consignment of yearlings numbering nine were sent from the famous Sledmere Stud to the annual sales at Doncaster. These nine yearlings in the aggregate realized a sum approaching 11,000 guineas. One of the batch was a colt by Carbine out of a Minting mare, appropriately named Maid of the Mint. This colt did not greatly appeal to buyers, but eventually a bid of 300 guineas was forthcoming from Major Eustace Loder, at which figure the hammer came down.

Major Loder was admittedly one of fortune's favorites—to such a degree, indeed, that his friends spoke of him as "Lucky Loder." Had his luck begun and ended with the purchase of this Carbine colt the cognomen would have been justified, but he had likewise owned Pretty Polly. The major had taken quite a fancy to this Sledmere youngster and had it been necessary he would have gone much higher than the 300 guineas aforesaid. But no one made it necessary and it thus happened that he secured one of the greatest bargains imaginable.

If the colt did not attract much attention at Doncaster, he was destined to make considerable history at Epsom less than two years later. The son of Carbine was sent to Clarehaven to be trained with the remainder of Major Loder's horses and was duly given the name of Spearmint. His early days at Newmarket were marked by a severe attack of fever, which lasted some months, and it says a great deal for his constitution that he made a complete recovery from an illness that would have incapacitated the majority of animals.

Spearmint made his debut at the Lingfield Summer meeting of 1905, being one of ten contestants for the Great Foal Plate, for which race he started favorite. They were a pretty poor lot, and Spearmint justified his favoritism, though it was only by a head that he accounted for Succory, which subsequently won a Newbury Spring Cup, and dropped dead a year later, after taking part in the same event. Spearmint's next appearance was in the Champion Breeders' Foal Stakes, at Derby, in September, but on this occasion he was easily beaten by Black Arrow, which had previously refused to start at Goodwood, when 100 to 7 was laid on him. His final essay was in the Richmond Nursery Handicap at the Newmarket Houghton meeting. In this he carried top weight and finished fourth to Farasi, owned by the Hon. W. R. Wyndham, one of the many sportsmen whose lives have been given in the service of their country in the course of the present war.

Spearmint's first engagement as a three-year-old was in the Derby, for which Gilpin held an exceptionally strong hand. It is true that Admirable Crichton, which had won two of his four races as a juvenile, had performed moderately in the Two Thousand; but the stable still sheltered Flair, which as a two-year-old had won the Imperial Produce Plate at Kempton Park, the Middle Park Plate and the Free Handicap (with 126 pounds in the saddle), and which cantered away with the One Thousand in the early days of 1906.

Flair, which was a daughter of St. Frusquin and Glare, was to be the Clarehaven candidate for the Derby, which, moreover, she was fully expected to win, while Spearmint was to be reserved for his engagement in the Grand Prix de Paris. Unfortunately, this plan of campaign was upset by the breakdown of Flair shortly after her Newmarket triumph. It was then decided that Spearmint should take her place. His trainer galloped the colt with Hammerkop and Pretty Polly and soon arrived at the conclusion that though Flair had become a negligible quantity there was still hope of winning the Derby. There were others who thought likewise and the price of Spearmint gradually shortened until he became one of the leading division in the daily list of quotations.

As the day drew nearer the confidence of those associated with Major Loder's colt increased, though the wiseacres felt disinclined to believe that a stable should be able to supply an efficient substitute for the brilliant Flair. Spearmint nevertheless retained a prominent position in the market, albeit the actual favorite was Lally, owned by Mr. W. B. Purefoy. Lally had carried off the Newmarket Stakes after a desperate race with Malua, with Gorgos, which had won the Two Thousand for Mr. Arthur James, third, the official verdict being "short head; head." When the horses faced the starter at Epsom, Lally was quoted at 4 to 1 against, Spearmint being second in demand at 6 to 1, with Sancy—second in the Two Thousand—and Malua both on the 8 to 1 mark.

Whatever chance Lally may have possessed was jeopardized by a slow beginning. His rider endeavored to make up the lost ground, but the effort had its effect upon the son of Amphion, and he was a beaten horse before the serious business had been entered upon. When a quarter of a mile remained to be covered Picton and Troutbeck held the lead, with Spearmint in a handy position. At one point Picton, ridden by Mr. George Thursby, held a slight advantage, but when Maher on Spearmint set about the business in earnest there was little doubt as to the result, Major Loder's cheap purchase winning comfortably by a length and a half from Picton, Troutbeck being third. Among those unplaced were Radium, Beppo and The White Knight, all of which subsequently attained eminence.

A few lays later the Derby winner competed in the race for which he was originally intended—the Grand Prix. On the strength of his Epsom success he was an odds-on chance, and the good thing materialized, though it was by only a neck that the unconsidered Briscoeur was beaten. The French champion, Maintenon, which had won the Derby of his native country, ran badly, failing to finish in the first three. Twenty years had elapsed since an English horse had carried off the chief French race, so that the success of Spearmint—a grandson of the previous winner, Minting—did not come out of its turn. Shortly after his French triumph Spearmint was afflicted with leg trouble, and as it was found impossible to train him he was sent to the stud, and he has already achieved a great measure of success as a sire.—"J. F. P." in London Sporting Life.

WILSON'S IMPORTED TWO-YEAR-OLDS.

An eastern writer has inspected R. T. Wilson's five English-bred two-year-olds and gained a favorable impression, saying of them: "A noteworthy improvement is observable in the five English-bred two-year-olds purchased by Robert Sevier for R. T. Wilson. These animals, three colts and two fillies came over early in the fall season on the Atlantic Transport Line's steamship Philadelphian, and, as they had a long and rough voyage, they arrived here looking both rough and lean, but during the late autumn and winter they have been developing finely, and now they are a decidedly attractive band.

"The smallest of them now, as was the case when they first landed, is the black filly by Royal Fox. She is well formed and blood-like all over, and is as healthy and robust as could be wished, but she is rather undersized. The finest in the quintette as far as size and conformation is concerned is the chestnut colt by Radium—Fayre. This is a bright chestnut colt marked only with a small star. He is of unusual length from nose to tail, having a long neck, oblique shoulders, long and well-formed barrel, muscular loin and great reach in the quarters, which are gracefully formed and characterized by unusually good driving power. His croup is high, and his hocks and knees are close to the ground. This colt has good bone below the knee, excellent pasterns, and he has the look of one which might develop into a really good race horse, should his action prove as good as his conformation.

"The brown colt by Santoi—Cornfield is another of the big ones in the quintette. He is of the stout and masculine sort, and has admirable racing outlines. What little could be seen of his action before the track became unfit for exercising gallops and when he was barely bridlewise, gave all who saw him in action an extremely favorable impression of his way of going, and with many of the Belmont Park trainers he has become a marked favorite.

"The bay colt by Desmond—Ardent, which was one of the smaller of the band when they first landed in this country, has grown and thickened remarkably during the winter, and now he is about as large as either of the colts just described. He is a strong and racy-looking colt, showing great power, especially in his quarters, while he has the bloodlike neck and oblique shoulders of a real race horse. All in all, this seems to be the most improved member of the quintette.

"Last on the list is a bay filly by Dark Ronald—Best Belle. While less striking in appearance than her larger stable mates, this filly appears to be one of the useful sort, and those who have seen her in action have been favorably impressed by her."

BIG MINSTREL SHOW DONATION.

New Orleans, La., March 29.—Through Sam J. Hart, the Business Men's Racing Association today turned over to the Charity Hospital $3,674, the proceeds of the race track minstrel shaw. Hart said more would be turned over later.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

A Paris dispatch of yesterday says: After a six days' lull the Germans resumed the offensive at Verdun yesterday with redoubled violence. The better to hide their plans they had for a week been shelling the whole Verdun front impartially, but the French staff expected that the attack would come on the west of the river and made all due preparations. The surmise was justified by the event. The German effort was confined to a small section, hardly more than a half mile in width, between Vovocourt and Malancourt. The artillery poured a hail of shells on this short line all morning in preparation for the infantry attack, which was launched at three o'clock in the afternoon. The attacking masses, about a division strong, dashed forward over the ground which had been plowed up by the shells of their heavy guns, apparently expecting an easy victory. They reckoned, however, without the French infantry and the French light artillery, which had been skillfully sheltered from the bombardment. Using every advantage which the ground afforded, the French infantry held off the Germans with rifle and machine gun fire while the 75s threw a curtain of shells which prevented reserves from approaching. Again the gray-coated waves surged forward, only to be broken against the stout resistance of the defenders. The object of the Germans was to force the French to evacuate the village of Malancourt, the heights surrounding which the Germans already hold. They failed completely, it is affirmed, and the French hold the Malancourt salient as firmly as ever.

The Twentieth Century Limited, which crashed into the wreckage of two other passenger trains at Amherst, Ohio, reached Chicago at 1:50 p. m. yesterday, four hours late, laden with passengers, who related thrilling stories of the rail catastrophe. Charles Nelson, 139 Sangamon street, was killed in the wrecking of the two sections of Train No. 86. Complete details of the disaster are not available as yet, but a Cleveland dispatch of yesterday says: At least thirty persons were killed and more than forty injured in the wreck early today of three of the New York Central's crack passenger trains a mile west of Amherst. Twenty-five bodies had been taken out at noon and five more were known to be in the debris. When the total of dead and injured is finally ascertained, the wreck will surpass, in cost of life and limb, even the wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited at Mentor in 1904, when the famous train piled into a freight on its second trip on the New York-Chicago twenty-hour run. Dense fog obscured the signal set by the first section of the eastbound Pittsburgh-Baltimore-Buffalo limited, causing another section of that train to crash into it. A short time later, before signalmen could flag it, the Twentieth Century Limited, westbound, crashed into the wreckage, which had piled up on the westbound track. Engineer Herbert Hess of the second section of No. 86 stated this afternoon that his train was traveling fifty miles an hour when it struck the first section. He said the two block signals which he passed prior to the wreck were "clear." Daylight had not yet appeared when the three trains piled up together.

Of the latest reports from Verdun a London dispatch of yesterday says: Terrific fighting today in the region of Verdun resulted in gains both by the Germans and the French, according to the official statements issued from Berlin and Paris. German troops have broken the French front for more than 2,000 yards, capturing several lines of trenches in the fighting north of Malancourt, ten miles northwest of Verdun, the war office at Berlin announced this afternoon. The Germans captured 498 prisoners and five guns. The new drive carried the Germans into the northwest position of the village of Malancourt itself. The gain is the greatest made by the Germans in the Verdun offensive in more than a fortnight. The German advance further imperils the French positions in the sharp salient at Bethincourt and Malancourt. On the other hand, the French, after repulsing yesterday a massed attack with great slaughter to the enemy, assumed the offensive during the night north of Avocourt, penetrated German connecting trenches and drove the Germans back for a considerable distance over the wide front in a hand-to-hand battle with hand grenades and bayonets. This was followed up this morning with an attack on Avocourt wood, following an intense artillery preparation. The French penetrated the wood for a depth of 300 yards, driving the Germans from their trenches, captured in their recent drive, and did not stop until they had taken a strongly fortified position known as the redoubt of Avocourt.

From San Antonio a dispatch said yesterday: Francisco Villa was moving toward Santa Catarina, in the Santa Maria valley, four days ago, according to information obtained by Col. Dodd Sunday, and forwarded to Gen. Funston today by Gen. Pershing. Gen. Pershing added that the residents of the valley appeared friendly to Villa, adding that it was with great difficulty the scouts learned anything from them regarding his movements. Gen. Pershing was known to be with one of the advanced columns today, but at his own request the positions of his troops were not revealed. All detachments operating south and east of Namiquipa were reported to be pushing forward at high speed and from the American frontier to the last supply base the quartermaster's department was working at high pressure to keep moving the large volume of supplies. As to the details of the actual chase of Villa, however, Gen. Funston and his staff knew little more than the public. The war department has returned the long report of Colonel Slocum on the Columbus attack with instructions to have the colonel amplify it. Col. Slocum is commanding troops just now more that 200 miles from the border and a revision of his report is not expected for some time. It has been sent to him, however. Lieut.-Col. W. S. Scott today left for Douglas, Arizona, to take command of the First cavalry, relieving Col. F. S. Foltz, who is ill.

The British horse ship Englishman was first shelled and then torpedoed by a German submarine, according to affidavits made to representatives of the state department at Liverpool by three American survivors. Following the receipt of this information today, officials said it seemed clear that the Englishman had tried to escape. The submarine was operating within the law in shelling and torpedoing the Englishman if the vessel was fleeing to escape capture, as is inferred by officials here from the dispatch. The German government has been asked whether any of its submarines was concerned in the sinking of the Englishman or the damaging of the British channel liner Sussex while that ship was carrying twenty-five American passengers. While it is indicated that the case of the Englishman may not lead to difficulties between the United States and Germany if it is proved it was escaping, overnight dispatches to the state department from Dover seem, officials said, to bear out previous allegations that the Sussex was torpedoed. American consular representatives, it was said in the dispatches, had obtained from various survivors at Dover affidavits confirming those by survivors in France. The contents of the dispatches were not disclosed here, but it was said that the affidavits were being forwarded by the officials who had gathered them.

General Carranza has agreed to permit the movement of supplies to the punitive expedition in Mexico over the Mexico-Northwestern Railroad. The supplies will go as commercial freight to concerns in Mexico with which the army has contracts. The success of the expedition depends largely on getting men and supplies behind Villa quickly and to portions of the country where the army motor truck trains cannot go. It is indicated that General Carranza has agreed to the conditional use of the road, yielding to urgent representations of the American government in advance of the perfection of the formal protocol for joint operations. The permission for use of the railroad is not granted in a military sense and does not cover the movement of troops for which the American army has not asked. It will, however, enable General Pershing's force to get supplies in abundance in a country where motor truck trains cannot carry them and will thus aid immeasurably in the pursuit of the Villa bandits.

Commanders of the Carranza troops now in the Chihuahua region apparently have lost trace of Villa and his men, for no report has been received by Mexican officers here for some time concerning Villa's whereabouts. Armed bands of Villa forces are reported in various parts of Chihuahua and in some numbers around Torreon, but they are operating independently of the main Villa command. Joseph W. Allison, second lieutenant of the Thirteenth cavalry, who was brought back to the base hospital at Fort Bliss from Casas Grandes suffering from a cold that developed into pneumonia, died yesterday.

Before the end of June the allied armies will strike simultaneous blows on all fronts, designed to bring the kaiser to his knees and end the war before Christmas. This combined offensive, it was held in London yesterday is the certain result of the great war council of the allies, which closed at Paris Tuesday night. The allied drives may be preceded by other German attempts to break the western front, it is believed in London. There are persistent rumors that the Germans have used the long lull at Verdun to shift troops for a blow at some other sector of the French front.

From Paris yesterday a late dispatch says: French troops made an attack last night on Avocourt Wood, west of the Meuse, where the German assault was made yesterday. The official statement today says the French carried part of the works which the Germans had constructed. The Germans made a fierce counter attack, but were driven back with heavy losses. They made no other effort to recover the lost ground. The recent German attack on Malancourt was made with a fresh division which was thrown back with large losses.

Albert Magerle, 104 years old, attempted to light a gas stove Tuesday, but failing to understand its mechanism, turned on the gas and did not light it. He was found dead in his bed some time later by his daughter, Mrs. John Visoky, with whom he lived at 3712 Costello street. Magerle came from Bohemia thirty-five years ago. He retired a few years later and took up his residence with his daughter. He did not use tobacco in any form and his health was so good that physicians had predicted many more years for him.

The strike of 20,000 garment workers, members of the Almagamated Garment Workers' Association, which, according to the police, was threatened for May 1, was averted yesterday when the Wholesale Clothing Dealers' Association announced a reduction in working hours. The time, according to the announcement by Martin J. Isaacs, attorney for the wholesale dealers, is reduced from fifty-two hours a week to fifty, with no alteration in pay. This means that the workers will receive from two to four cents a garment increase.

Invention of a dry cell electric signal light, capable of projecting its ray 150 miles and through comparatively thick smoke and haze was announced Tuesday by the coast and geodetic survey. The light, said to be 150 times as powerful as the acetylene lamps now in use, was perfected by E. G. Fischer, chief of the survey's instrument bureau. It will be used on surveys in the mountains of the west, where the distance between stations frequently is more than 100 miles.

The Chinese revolutionists have captured Pengshui, southeast of Fu-Chow-Sze, in the Province of Sze-Chuen, north of Yunnan, and are reported to be within seven miles of Luchow. A telegram from Cheng-Tu says hostilities in the southern Sze-Chuen are temporarily suspended, but the bandits are doing tremendous damage looting cities in the Cheng-Tu plain.

Travelers arriving at Manila from Mindanao say that the United States cruiser Brooklyn is patrolling the Sulu sea, as Germans are suspected of assembling U boat parts there. The allies' warships also swarm in these waters, and, it is asserted, are violating neutrality.

The Baltimore Federal league baseball club yesterday filed suit in the United States District court at Philadelphia against organized baseball for $900,000 damages under the Sherman anti-trust act and Clayton anti-trust act.

Ten thousand Mersey dock hands went on strike at Liverpool, England, yesterday, following a dispute concerning pay for overtime. The action of the dock hands is expected to affect transatlantic shipping seriously.

General Largeau, one of the youngest French brigadier, has been killed in action at Verdun. He distinguished himself in Africa, where he served with the Marchand expedition.

GREATEST STEEPLECHASE OF ALL LANDS.

Horses and Incidents Conspicuous in the Record of the Liverpool Grand National.

Were it possible to canvass the general body of those who take an interest in racing, a greater number than might be supposed would probably be found to give preference to cross-country sport to that on the flat, despite the fact that jumping takes place for a considerable period in weather that is at the best uncertain and often inclement. It is, of course, not actively participated in by so large a body as follow the fortunes of racing under Jockey Club rules, but interest may be just as keen and genuine in the one case as in the other, and it can safely be said that it culminates in connection with the Grand National. In every respect that steeplechase is the greatest and most important in the world. The course over which it is decided has no equal for trying the capabilities of the best of 'chasers, and to have won the big race at Liverpool in almost any circumstances is evidence of the possession of the gift of staying and jumping ability. Like the Derby, the winning of it is a much coveted distinction, and horses have been, at various times, sent from the antipodes, from America and from France to compete in it—to say nothing of Ireland, which country has played quite a distinguished part in its history.

Going for its institution as far back as 1839—though it was not until 1843 that it became a handicap—the race has a record as long as most, and, like those of old establishment, has experienced vicissitudes in various directions. The distance was slightly altered at one time, without, however, detracting from its value as a high steeplechasing test, and, though occasionally a horse of comparatively moderate class has been successful, its list of winners shows a fine array of great cross-country performers, many of which were the property of well-known staunch upholders of the sport. As in the question of the best thoroughbred the British turf has ever produced, or as to the order of merit of the winners of the "triple crown," the point occasionally raised as to the best winner of the Grand National is not susceptible of positive solution. There have been extra good ones at various periods, and some of them won twice, but it may be taken for granted that not many have been better than Cloister, whose victory in 1893 was a most brilliant affair. He won by no less than forty lengths under 175 pounds, thereby establishing a record that has not been beaten, though it was subsequently equalled by Manifesto and Jerry M. He would in all probability have won again under the same weight in 1894, but caught a chill a little while before the race and did not see the post, though as little as 6 to 4—surely the shortest price ever quoted for a "National" horse—had been taken about him. Allotted 185 pounds the following year, he broke down badly, being again unable to run, and the course over which he had won and been second to Come Away in 1891 and to Father O'Flynn in 1892 knew him no more, for he was turned out of training, and eventually shot in 1903.

Cloister's owner, though then racing as "Mr. C. G. Duff," was, as is now well known, the late Sir C. Assheton-Smith, a lavish patron of steeplechasing, who spared no expense in the purchase of likely horses for jumping and among others he bought was Jerry M. By a curious coincidence he was destined to bring to his owner the Cross-Country Blue Riband for the second time—after he had for a period retired from the sport—and, like Cloister, Jerry M. was also the victim of circumstances. A successful five-year-old career pointed to Aintree possibilities, but he was easily beaten for the Grand National of 1910, and the following year had 176 pounds in the handicap. To the general disappointment he was struck out eleven days before the race and it was left for 1912 to see him pass the post first. This he did with 175 pounds up, and though he did not win by such a wide margin as Cloister the performance was enough to stamp him as a 'chaser of the best class. That was his last appearance on the race course, for the next year, when handicapped at 178 pounds, he did not accept, and the race went to his stable companion, Covert Coat. Jerry M. can fairly be ranked among the top-sawyers, for in addition to his fine record in this country, he had successes to his credit in France.

Manifesto, the other horse to win the National with 175 pounds up, was one of the most popular of cross-countrty performers and stands on an even higher pedestal than Cloister and Jerry M. by virtue of having scored twice. His record in connection with the Grand National is unique and whenever he ran he never failed of public support. He seemed to make the course his own and competed in the great steeplechase on no fewer than eight occasions—a performance not equalled by any other winner or loser of the race. On his first essay, in 1895, he was fourth (carrying 156 pounds) to Wild Man from Borneo; fell in 1896; won (under 157 pounds) in 1897, being then nine years old; won again in 1899 (with 175 pounds in the saddle); was third (weight 181 pounds) to Ambush II. in 1900; third (176 pounds) to Shannon Lass in 1902; third (171 pounds) to Drumcree in 1903; and ninth (169 pounds) to Moiffaa in 1904. In the course of his racing service, which extended over twelve years, he won eight events and lost twenty-seven, last ran at Liverpool (in the Valentine Steeplechase) in November, 1904, and died, when seventeen years old, the following year. His was a truly remarkable and, it may be added, honorable career, and one not excelled by any 'chaser.

The only other horses to win the race twice were The Colonel and The Lamb, of which the former was successful in 1869 and 1870 and The Lamb in 1868 and 1871. The Lamb, though a somewhat small horse, was little and good, and the pair can be bracketed as among the best in the gallery of Grand National winners, though in the matter of weight carried neither approaches the 175 pounds of Cloister, Manifesto and Jerry M. No inconsiderable proportion of the winners of the race have hailed from the Emerald Isle, and they have often been ridden by Irish horsemen. Among them are The Lamb, Liberator, Empress, Woodbrook, Seaman, Come Away, Cloister, Wild Man from Borneo, Manifesto, Drogheda, Ambush II., Drumcree and Jerry M., and not many of them brought more joy to the hearts of the Irishmen than did Wild Man from Borneo in 1895. The shout that went up from Aintree when he passed the post first could almost have been heard on the other side of St. George's channel, and the jubilation was the greatest from the fact that he was steered by a popular rider in Mr. "Joe" Widger. The Royal House has been once concerned with victory in the "National," and its records are made illustrious by that of Ambush II. in 1900. It will be remembered that our late king, Edward VII. (then Prince of Wales), honored with his patronage cross-country sport as well as that on the flat, and an attmept had been made with Magic to win the Grand National under the royal colors the previous year. But he gave a poor show, and when the situation was redeemed by Ambush II., the enthusiasm on the course knew no bounds, and the scene will never be forgotten by those who witnessed it. Allusion is made above to the frequency with which Manifesto competed for the Grand National, but he is run very close by Frigate, which took part in the race on seven occasions. The mare ran five times before she secured the judge's verdict in 1889, having, as a six-year-old, been second to Voluptuary in 1884, second to Roquefort in 1885, fell in 1886, was unplaced in 1887, and in 1888 was second to Playfair, after meeting with bad luck in the contest, and being carried out of the course through the swerving of one of the competitors. Thus it was a case of perseverance rewarded, and her success was the more appreciated since she was well backed when she won.

Though at one time the great race was open to four-year-olds, a horse of that age has not run for it since 1884, when Terrier was in the field, and most of the winners have been of considerable maturity, the oldest to win being Why Not, who was thirteen years old in 1894, the season of his success. The five-year-olds to earn brackets are Regal (1876), Austerlitz (1877), Empress (1880), and Lutteur III. (1909). The best of this band was doubtless the last-named, which had a brilliant career in France, and won in irreproachable style at the first time of going over the course, much of the credit of his victory being due to the skilful handling of his jockey, Parfrement, who, like his mount, was making a first acquaintance with the trying Aintree track. Lutteur III., is the only French-bred horse to win the race, though others had made the attempt previously, and as his owner, M. James Hennessy, is one of the most liberal patrons of cross-country sport in France, and he had many backers on this side of the Channel, the triumph was a popular one. The son of St. Damien again tried his luck in the race in 1911, and was well backed with 171 pounds up, but he was one of a field of twenty-six of which only four finished, and he was not one of the four. The race was a chapter of accidents, and Glenside won by twenty lengths.

Cross-country sport does not, unfortunately, in these days enjoy the active support of so many influential patrons of racing as was once the case, but the honored name of Lord Coventry is still associated with it. Many present-time race goers were not born when he won the Grand National with the sisters, Emblem and Emblematic, so far back as 1863 and 1864, and since that period his colors have been carried by some good horses. He had a promising jumper in Chimney Sweep just after the time of Emblematic, which was much fancied for the Grand National won by The Lamb in 1868. He started favorite, but fell, broke his leg and was destroyed. In recent years his lordship owned a promising cross-country performer named Belus, of which much was hoped, but he proved a failure when asked to stay and did nothing of any great note. It is almost too much to expect that another Emblem or Emblematic will be found to carry the "brown, blue cap," but, were it so to happen, it would be a fitting pendant to distinctions that came in earlier years.—London Sportsman.

AMERICAN JOCKEY RECORD FOR 1916.

During the racing from the beginning of the present year up to and including March 28, 152 jockeys were winners of one or more races in the United States, Mexico and Cuba. The record of these jockeys for the period named, with their riding weights, is embraced in the following tabulation:

Time, 12, 24, 36⅗, 49⅕. Track fast.

Winner—B. c, by Rey Hindoo—Katherine Ennis (trained by W. H. Nevin).

Went to post at 2:31. At post 3 minutes. Start good and slow. Won driving; second and third the same. REY ENNIS, after racing in closest pursuit from the start, stood a hard drive gamely and, overtaking COLZA in the last eighth,, had enough speed in reserve to outstay CASHUP. The latter closed a gap and, coming with a rush in the final eighth, was going fastest at the end. COLZA set a fast pace, had a clear course all the way and stayed fairly well. LAZY LOU ran a good race. SANG BLEU was away badly and outpaced. The winner was entered for $400; no bid.

Overweights—No Friend, 2 pounds.

25565 SECOND RACE—5 1-2 Furlongs. (67771—1:06⅕—3—97.) Purse $300. 3-year-olds and upward. Selling. Net value to winner $225; second, $50; third, $25.

Winner—Ch. g, by Meelick—Paschal (trained by D. B. Freeman).

Went to post at 2:59. At post 1 minute. Start good and slow. Won driving; second and third the same. VAMPIRE, away forwardly, raced in nearest pursuit to the stretch, then passed EVA PADWICK in the last eighth and held LEIALOHA safe in the final drive. LEIALOHA began slowly and closed a big gap in the last quarter into a close up second. EVA PADWICK set a good pace, but tired fast in the stretch drive. MODESTO BOY, after racing wide most of the way, finished fast. BILL WILEY showed speed, but tired in the stretch. BROWNSTONE was badly beaten after being prominent for the first quarter. The winner was entered for $300; no bid.

Scratched—25476 Bernini, 92; 25558 Ida Spivey, 100.

Overweights—Vampire, 1½ pounds; Eva Padwick, 4; Mug, 1½; Last Chance, 1.

25566 THIRD RACE—5 1-2 Furlongs. (67771—1:06⅕—3—97.) Purse $400. 3-year-olds and upward. Selling. Net value to winner $300; second, $65; third, $35.
